

National Public Lands Day Volunteer Event

National Public Lands Day is held annually on the fourth Saturday in September, and it is our nation's largest single-day volunteer effort. It celebrates the connection between people and natural areas in our communities, inspires environmental stewardship, and encourages preservation of open space for education, recreation, and myriad health benefits.

Join the Rocky Mountain Conservancy and Rocky Mountain National Park in a volunteer clean-up event to do meaningful work that matters and show your support for public lands across the country!

Who: Anyone and everyone of all ages and abilities

What: A day of service providing litter clean up and environmental restoration in a high-use area of the park. Please pack a lunch for the day and bring work gloves and trash bags, if you are able.

When: Saturday September 24, 2022, from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m.

Where: The “Island” of National Park land on the south side of highway 36 near Beaver Meadows Visitor Center

Why: To demonstrate our appreciation of public lands through volunteer stewardship

How to Register: TBD

Please contact Ian Stafford if you have any questions at Ian.Stafford@RMConservancy.org