

Day of Remembrance Volunteer Event

More than 20 years after the day that changed our lives forever, communities are now coming together to remind ourselves of the resilience and teamwork that unite us. What better way to do this than a volunteer service project? And what better place to do this than Rocky Mountain National Park?

Join the Rocky Mountain Conservancy and Rocky Mountain National Park in a volunteer clean-up event to show that we are stronger together, and that nothing is more powerful than community!

Who: Anyone and everyone of all ages and abilities

What: A day of service – TBD

When: Saturday September 10, 2022, from 10 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Where: Litter removal from Many Parks Curve area

Why: Come together as citizens to show resilience, teamwork, and unity in caring for each other and our shared public lands.

How to Register: TBD

Please contact Ian Stafford if you have any questions at Ian.Stafford@RMConservancy.org